A Plan for Better Walking and Biking in Mifflin County

The Mifflin County Planning and Development Department is making a plan to improve walking and biking for everyday travel and recreation. The plan will identify a countywide bicycle and pedestrian network that interconnects in-town and rural destinations and detail improvements in six areas of the network.

The Project Team wants to hear from You!

Where are improvements needed to address bicyclist and pedestrian safety, comfort, and convenience? Where are new connections needed to reach regular destinations easily?
